Adaptogens Perfect for living in the modern world, adaptogens help our bodies and minds adapt to stress without the side effects of synthetic "solutions." Adaptogens grow in many forms including ashwagandha and ginseng roots, herbs like Rhodiola, Schisandra berries, and even mushrooms.

Nootropics & Neurotransmitter Support Nootropics like Bacopa monnieri and Lion's Mane enhance/elevate cognitive function and improve mental clarity and memory. Support healthy neurotransmission and help your body naturally regulate anxiety, depression, sleep, and appetite with GABA, 5-HTP, and more.

Mushrooms & Herbs Mushrooms such as Reishi, AKA "the mushroom of immortality," provide powerful immune-boosting and anti-inflammatory properties, meanwhile mushrooms like cordyceps deliver fungi-powered performance enhancement. Herbs like Rhodiola Rosea and Passionflower provide natural support.

Essential Vitamins & Minerals Bolster your well-being at the cellular level with key vitamins and minerals like magnesium and vitamin D3, which are commonly deficient in the US... and the lack of is correlated to anxiety, poor sleep, and low energy.
